

THE LIFE OF STATE AND CITY MOURNERS OF SHERMAN L. WHIPPLE

GOVERNOR'S DEATH

Gov. Allen Genued by His Passing; Legal Shenks, Says Ex-Lieut. Gov. Barry

Tributes to Sherman L. Whipple began to pour in today immediately after the news of his death became known.

The first came from Mayor James M. Curley, a close friend and political associate of Whipple. Mayor Curley said that the death of Sherman L. Whipple is a tragedy and every individual in Massachusetts shares with the members of his immediate family the loss of a most lovable and truly great man. He said that the children suffer the loss of a kindly, genial and devoted father. The citizenship of Massachusetts suffered the loss of a leader and champion, for every one knew that which no man can lose without the deepest of heartaches, and a sincere and faithful friend.

GOVERNOR FRANK G. ALLEN—The sudden death of the Hon. Sherman L. Whipple comes as a distinct shock to him. Whipple had attained an eminent position at the Bar in Massachusetts. He had enjoyed an honorable and extraordinary career. His genius and ability had attracted national attention, and here in our own Commonwealth the members of the bar have long admired him as one of the outstanding barristers of the time. The Commonwealth could ill afford to lose him.

JUDGE JOHN C. CROSBY, supreme court justice, Whipple was a leading member of the bar who always conducted himself with fidelity to the courts and his clients. He was a very dignified and able and sterling work, a leader in the profession, and he was missed by the Bar and the country in general.

CHIEF JUSTICE WALTER PERLEY HALL, Superior Court—He was a leader of the Bar in Massachusetts. He was a very dignified and able and sterling work, a leader in the profession, and he was missed by the Bar and the country in general.

ATTY-GEN. JOSEPH E. WARD—The death of Sherman L. Whipple is a tremendous and terrible loss not only to the bar but to the whole State. He has been one of our greatest leaders in the generation in cases of outstanding importance. He has many times responded to the service of the Commonwealth in leading his superlative and talented. He has rendered assistance to our judicial system in many important matters during his administration. His loss is irreparable.

JUDGE JAMES M. MORTON, Jr.—I am shocked by the death of Sherman L. Whipple. He is one more great man who has passed on. He was a tremendous leader in the trial bar in Massachusetts. He was a man of the highest qualities of judgment, skill and personality. He was a man of the highest qualities of judgment, skill and personality. He was a man of the highest qualities of judgment, skill and personality.

DANIEL H. HALL of Hough, Jones & Hall—I am shocked beyond words at the death of Sherman L. Whipple. I have known him intimately for nearly 30 years. In long and difficult cases we have been on opposite sides, and in similar cases we have been associated on the same side. But whether as an antagonist or as an associate, he was the most generous and courteous of men, always fair and ready to accommodate with reason, always anxious to share with those assisting him the credit and rewards of victory. My early respect for his great legal growth, association, intellect and affection for the man. The bar of the Commonwealth and Nation has lost one of its acknowledged leaders.

3 Given Up as Lost Are Saved Off Boat

Bridgeport, Ct., Oct. 20 (AP)—Three men who had been given up as lost were found today after spending three days in a small boat off the coast of Bridgeport. They are George Schmidt, 30, of Yonkers, N.Y.; Harry Elder, 30, and Walter Whalley, 30, both of New York. They were rescued and taken to the hospital after clinging to the upturned boat for more than two hours in the cold water of the sea.

A fourth member of the fishing party, Harry Schmidt, 28, was taken ashore after the boat had capsized.

Bates Honors Claudel, French Ambassador
Lawton, Me., Oct. 20 (AP)—Ambassador from France and the United States, received honorary degrees of doctor of law from Bates College today. He was the first of the Claudel family to be honored by Bates.

BLUENOSE MAY RACE THEBAUD TO HALIFAX

Closter, Oct. 20.—It is still a strong possibility that the Bluenose will race the Gertrude L. Thebaud from this port to Halifax within the next week. Gloucester racing enthusiasts hope to secure a purse of $5000 from wealthy yachting men.

The Bluenose was within a hair's breadth of disaster during Saturday's race. It was learned, when members of her crew let out the story of the ship's wild ride over the Round Rock Shoals.

Driving along at 13 knots, the Bluenose ran over the Round Rock Shoals. She ground with a jar, but her momentum kept her plunging along. The mishap came while observers were two miles or more away and could not see the effect of the impact.

St. Polycarp's Club Aids Building Fund

Tonight at the New Life hall, Broadway, St. Polycarp's Club will inaugurate its season with a dance and a social. The club, which has a membership of 100, is a young people's club with a view to the benefit of its church building fund. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hill will be the hosts of the evening.

The chairman of the various committees are: Misses Chas. M. Dineen, Miss Dorothy Benjamin, Misses Radcliffe, Misses Kiley, Frank Cusfield, Richard Young.

Day of Prayer to Precede Election

In a statement made public today, the Women's National Committee for Law Enforcement, declares that at the election Nov. 4 this country will face the most serious division since 1861, when secession led finally to civil war, and issues a call for the observance of Nov. 2 as a "Day of Prayer" throughout the Nation, in churches, schools and homes, that people may come "to the help of the Lord on Nov. 4."

The dangerous Reds are in our midst, the statement read, men and women who defy and break down the law passed by the great majority of the people. To yield to the forces of lawlessness means crime in our great un-American cities.

Services Today for Mrs. Hubbard

Funeral services for Mrs. Mabel B. Hubbard, wife of Frank Hubbard, of 111 State st., who passed away Saturday after a long illness were held from her family home today afternoon, with burial in the Oak Hill cemetery.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, George S. of Buffalo, N. Y., Edward J. and John A. of this city, and one sister, Miss Caroline B. Smith, also of Newburyport.

Wandering Child Claimed by Dad

The child found wandering about in Mattapan in late Saturday night, was identified as the son of M. H. Moore, and claimed by his father last night. The little wanderer is William P. O'Brien, Jr., 2½ years old, of Oakwood st., Mattapan.

The father told the authorities that he went to Boston Saturday and that he left his son in the care of relatives. Sometime during the early evening the child wandered away.

Packing Company to Build in Woburn

The Wilmington Packing Company, whose plant was destroyed by fire two weeks ago, since which time efforts to have a permit granted for rebuilding have been opposed by the town of Wilmington, has been granted a permit to operate a rendering plant in Woburn, and will locate on a part of the Merrimack Chemical Company property in North Woburn.

Car Goes in Ditch But Doesn't Even Scrape Spellyacy

Joe Spellyacy was whistling happily at his work today in a ditch at Old Colony hwy. and Dorchester, when James Donohoe, 38, of Catherine st., Milton, drove along.

Pretty soon Donohoe and his thrifty motor were not on the hwy. any longer, and the tires were bumping over the rough.

The car came to rest in Joe Spellyacy's ditch, but because Joe had built his feature with windows, he did not feel in a hurry to get out. The car could not fall in.

Police took Donohoe away to a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor.

IRISH SEEK TO FREE MOONEY

A demand for the unconditional release of Thomas Mooney and Warren K. Billings was made at a meeting of the Irish County Associations of Boston under the auspices of the Central Council of Irish County Clubs.

The meeting, presided over by Daniel Doherty, president of the County Donegal Association, endorsed the demand in a resolution.

The first speaker was ex-Senator John J. Carey, who made a plea in behalf of Mooney and Billings. He read a copy of a resolution adopted at the American Federation of Labor convention here, protesting the alleged miscarriage of justice in the Mooney and Billings case.

BIG PRICE CUT ON REO CARS

"The greatest value ever offered in Reo's 20 years of motor car building," is the way T. M. Lincoln, general manager of the Lincoln Motor Co. local Reo distributor, describes a price reduction announced today to provide a limited number of new cars headed by the Reo-Two at a price presented last week.

"There is only a limited number of cars to be allotted by the factory to each distributor to be sold at this price," Mr. Lincoln says. The saving, he points out, ranges as high as $500, the most drastic price cut in Reo's history.

Included in the various models named in an advertisement now appearing in newspapers is the Reo Flying Cloud master sedan now offered at $1395, f. o. b. Lansing, just $500 below the regular price of $1795. Reductions of $200 are effective on the Flying Cloud Model 20 coupe and Model 20 sedan, bringing the price down to $1295. These cars are all fitted with Reo's second transmission. The Model 15 business coupe, formerly priced at $1175, is now $900, a most remarkable price for a six-cylinder Reo. At these new prices Mr. Lincoln points out, a Reo can be purchased for a down payment as low as $250.

Fire Perils N. J. Plant

Camden, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP).—Fire, caused by explosion of an alcohol tank endangered the RCA-Victor plant here today. The heat confined to four 50-gallon tanks of alcohol, resulted efforts of firemen for an hour.

The Hague, Oct. 20.—Frank B. Kellogg, former American secretary of State, arrived here yesterday to assume the duties of his new post as justice of the League Court.

BOSTON VESSEL TAKEN IN TOW

The Boston fishing trawler Saturn, with engine disabled, was picked up drifting 10 miles off Pulaski Lightship early today and taken in tow by the steamship Ogunn Prince, bound for Boston for Philadelphia.

According to a message picked up by Coast Guard patrol boats and the Radio Marine Corporation, the trawler, owned by the Bay State Fishing Co. of Boston, was in no danger.

She is in command of Capt. Richard Mackay and has a crew of 22 men aboard. She was inbound for this city.

The Ogunn Prince asked that she be relieved of her tow by some Coast Guard craft. This request was ignored and a Coast Guard boat sent out.

The Ogunn Prince is a British craft and left Boston Saturday for Philadelphia.

Third Street Robbery, $370 Cash

Philopete made their "bird" "touch" within two weeks at the junction of Washington and School sts. today, when they picked the pocket of Robert C. Reed, 41, of New rd., Brighton, of $370 cash, two banknotes, and two promissory notes for $200 and $100 each. He reported his loss to the police. Two men were robbed at the same place within the past fortnight for $200 and $200 respectively.

Banco, Not Bridge, Breaks Up Homes, Pastor Finds

Chicago Oct. 20 (AP).—The Rev. Clinton C. Cox, Presbyterian pastor, seeking to learn what causes the most trouble in the home, sent questionnaires to the 300 couples he has married and received among others these replies:

"Banco and not bridge is one of the greatest pitfalls."

"Telling it a wife that the status is slightly undignified or the pie is soggy doesn't help any."

"That the 'fishy' are not much of a problem, one young husband went so far as to say he would rather live with his wife's family than his own."

Fashion Flatters the Older Woman

By ANN ARDEN

THIS MODE seems to be the most adaptable one that has been achieved for a long time. There is prettiness in it for the very young, there is charm and loveliness in it for the "years between," and there is a tremendous amount of chic of a very sophisticated kind for those older women who refuse to grow old. In this day and age, of course, it is ridiculous for a woman to give up the paint-pots and take to flannel sitting.

WHAT COULD be smarter than the distinction of a coat on someone's lines, its fur cleverly placed to achieve slimness?

THE CHARM of the coat pictured is evident—of black Kashmiria cloth, its graceful drapes to side is accented by sun-burst tucks narrowing to its belt. The shawl collar of pointed fur is edged in wide spiral band of the fur about the neck, slightly flared edge. This is worn over a frock of black cotton crepe, a yoke of georgette in green extending over shoulders and embroidered in black and white.

THE HAT, of black silk, is from Societe des Modes de Paris. Its brim is widely flaring on one side, and under-furled in white. Dipping low on opposite side, the brim is held by spray of Coque's feathers in iridescent black and white. The dash of this hat is reminiscent of those worn by the Italian Renaissance, and is very smart.

THE SIDE closing is moving a bit. Not content with a diagonal line that is straight from neck to hemline, the closing of the coat or wrap now jumps directly from collar to waistline forming an underarm effect. Both coats and jackets adopt this manner.

YOU HAVE wondered, no doubt, whether some radical but very rational new hostess idea would not soon appear. Now you know it is the threat of black chiffon hose with a faint rusty cast. These hose, of course, are the answer to what to wear with a new frock so darkly brown that it is almost black. Off-black stockings may be worn with true black, also.

Mrs. Harriman Admits John the Fifth Doesn't Impress Her Set

New York, Oct. 20—Earle, at least where food is concerned, holds no admiration for women of New York.

Even when the same Earl supervises a district that suggests the fashion and, in fact, is used as an advertisement for food, the fair ones pass him laughably.

It may be on account of this "diet case," but the Earl remains that John, fifth Earl of Sandwich, of her own accord, passes out the has been snubbed by housewives. Interesting information that but Mrs. Oliver Harriman, surveyor two women in her wife's quaintance among artists and business women that care for a food product to which the Earl has lent his name.

Gen. Edwards Hits Back at Mrs. Peabody

"I don't know whether Gen. Pershing ever advocated the death penalty for the seller and manufacturer of opium," said Maj.-Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, retired, commenting upon an attack made on him and a dry rally last night in Boston Garden by Mrs. Henry W. Peabody. "But I do know that the foundations of this country are being eroded by prohibition and that the government is being turned over to the underworld."

Maj. Gen. Edwards pounded his desk.

"I suggest that you get confirmation of the supposed statement from General Pershing," said Gen. Edwards.

"For a quick analysis, I may say that the A. E. F. had 600,000 casualties in the last year, dozens of wounds and impairments. This statement of Mrs. Peabody's would indicate that there was a greater casualty list from rum than from this agency."

MAJ. GEN. EDWARDS

of prohibition, he said:

"I believe this question is quite as important as was the slavery question."

"There is danger," he added, "of this thing going on more years, that more of the enforcement machinery will be in the hands of the bootleggers. The only remedy if we don't get the Eighteenth Amendment from the Constitution will be state and municipal vigilance."

"I believe the present depression in America, with its attendant unemployment, is due largely to prohibition."

"Last night's meeting in Boston Garden will give the underworld and bootleggers more comfort than anything that has happened recently."

Malcolm W. Greenough, State commander of Crusaders, Inc., commenting on the speech of Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, said:

"Mrs. Peabody's reference to the reaction of death penalty for the maker or seller of liquor again illustrates the fanatical attitude against which the Crusaders are fighting. Next Sunday the people of our country had better pray to be saved from the results of the political stranglehold on our government which these bigots are striving to maintain. They should pray to be saved from the rule of the gangsters, gunmen and racketeers."

QUOTES GEN. PERSHING

"They should pray that our Constitution only some day be so changed that it will again enjoy the respect and reverence of every good citizen. Churches are better for the worship of God. In their effort to close their cause in a false righteousness, the drys are defiling many of the churches of our country."

"Twenty thousand persons attended last night's rally in Boston Garden under auspices of Pershing Loyalty League, at which Mrs. Peabody attacked Gen. Edwards and said she had sent Gen. Pershing's statement to Gen. Edwards as an example for him."

Mrs. Peabody quoted Gen. Pershing's statement.

Mello-Glo Prevents Shiny Nose

MELLO-GLO Face Powder is preferred by beautiful women because it leaves no trace of pastiness or flakiness or irritation. Stays on longer—no shiny nose! Made by a new French process—no greasy pores. Spreads more smoothly—no blotchy bloom. Very popular. Use MELLO-GLO Face Powder. It's wonderful.

SUITOR DEAD IN LOVE BATTLE

maining bullet into his head. He fell at the side of Myrtle's bed.

Dr. Herich Kann of 81 Harvard ave., Allston, announced that the shot killed him instantly. The body was turned over to Medical Examiner George Burgess McGrath.

According to Mrs. Lynde, Myron was a former boarder in the family home when the Lynde lived in Newburyport. He paid attention to Myrtle and then transferred to Myrtle.

The latter spurned him and had been the object of his threats for some time.

He returned to his home at Salem, N. S., three months ago, however, and nothing was heard of him until he met Myrtle last Wednesday.

MADE DEATH THREAT

He renewed his attentions and, when they were refused, he told her that he "didn't have long to live, but somebody else was going with him."

The girl thought no more about it until he made his appearance this morning.

He drove in the house in a sedan, parked it carefully in a side alley and went to the rear to make his entry. The car bore Massachusetts registration plates. The family could not state whether he had any relatives in or near Boston.

EXTRA GOLDBERG BURIED

A large gathering of men and women attended the funeral service of Ezra Goldberg at the Adas Jeshurun Synagogue, Blue Hill ave., Roxbury, yesterday.

Washing his wife, son and daughter with a razor, Joseph Whyland, believed mentally unbalanced, was overpowered by officers called by a neighbor early today.

The condition of Mrs. Whyland is serious. Her daughter, Eleanor, 18, and her son, Albert, 11, received minor wounds.

Meats Cooked in Oven Are Popular

From Martha Lee's Monday Morning Broadcast from Station WEEI
 THINKING OF buying a new gas range this fall? I do hope you're going to look at one with an oven—best regulator on it, and get away from all the worry and uncertainty of the ordinary range that has to be perched into every so often to see how things are getting along. With a heat-regulating oven, even watching is entirely unnecessary. If the regulator is set to the proper temperature, in fact, it is better to curb your worry—if you can, I can't always—keep it until the entire cooking is over, for every time the oven door is opened, the oven is cooled and more gas is used to heat it up again to the right temperature.

An oven heat regulator has taken most of the guess work out of modern cooking. In days gone by, it was truly difficult to keep the oven at the proper temperature, raising the oven flame and lowering it by hand. But today, if you want to leave home in the afternoon and return just in time for dinner, you can place your whole meal in your heat-regulated oven, and find it ready for serving on your return. The regulator is truly a magic chief, watching the cookery while you are away.

During this long period the heat regulator maintains a constant and even temperature in the oven and, even though the oven is closed, very little exploration takes place and the foods do not burn. A dinner to be served in the evening may be prepared and placed in the oven during the early afternoon and will be ready to serve on your return home a few minutes before dinner. If a whole oven meal is to be prepared and a meat is to be served, first, the meat is browned in a hot oven, 450 deg. F. for 20 minutes. While the meat is browning, get the rest of the meal ready in the oven, placing them in covered pans or dishes. After the meat is browned, turn the heat to 275. If you wish, your meat cooked in three hours, or 200, if you do not need it for four or five hours. Slip a rack underneath the meat, add a little boiling water to the pan, if you wish—though I will place the water—cover the pan tight, place the remainder of the foods in the oven and forget them until dinner time. I'm going to give you two menus for an oven-cooked dinner, and next Wednesday, I will broadcast the recipes for them.

HASH SUPREME

- 1 can Prudence Corned Beef Hash
 1 large pepper, chopped fine
 1 cup washed boiled potatoes
 1 large onion minced
 1/2 tsp. dillings
 1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
 1/2 tsp. black pepper
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. hot oil
 Turn the hash into a bowl and break it up fine. Add the potatoes, minced onion, chopped pepper, salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce and hot oil. Mix well. Add one tbsp. of the fat and mix well. Melt the remainder of the fat in the frying pan. Spread the hash mixture over the bottom and cook slowly for 15 minutes. Turn over, using a spatula or two knives. Serve garnished with parsley, with a salad.

Greater flakiness!

... that's the secret of their tender crispness

Have YOU got that recipe?

WE will appreciate your writing to us about any way in which you are using Rumford in your cooking other than baking. To each one who first submits a different recipe or cooking use for Rumford, different from those in this booklet, we will send FREE one of the Rumford Complete Cook Books (valued at $1.00), or a t-penny can of Rumford Baking powder. Please print your name and address clearly on the coupon and check whether you prefer the Rumford or the Rumford Cook Book.

YOU even may not call it a "recipe!"—maybe it's just a way you have of using Rumford to do this or that in preparing certain foods other than hot breads and pastry.

There are 24 New Uses for Rumford in our attractive booklet "24 New Things Under the Sun". We'll be glad to have you tell us other new uses. Most women think of baking powder only as a leavener, but we want you to know that Rumford, the pure all-phosphate baking powder, will do many other things for you—and save you money too. ANOTHER BOSTON DEBUTANTE of the 1928 season, Miss Ruth Welch, has become engaged to David Laidlaw of New York. Miss Welch is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis W. Welch of Mt. Kisco, N. Y., and Park ave. She made her debut in Boston at a reception given by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Fay at the Chilton Club. Miss Chapin's school, Walker's at Hingham, Ct., are her schools and she is a member of the New York Junior League. Mr. Laidlaw is a son of the late Col. and Mrs. David Laidlaw of Stillpoint, Scotland. He was graduated from the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, England, and saw active service in the British Navy in the World War.

Miss Virginia Peters to Become Bride of Walter J. Salmon, Jr.

MRS. ELDREDGE JORDAN of Washington, D. C., is announcing in New York the engagement of her niece, Miss Virginia Peters, to Mr. Walter J. Salmon, Jr., of New York. Miss Peters is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Peters and is a popular member of the Junior League of Washington. She was educated in Paris. Mr. Salmon is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Salmon of New York and graduated from Harvard with the class of 1929. Mr. Salmon, Jr., is well known as a ready-witted, brilliant and a noted racing stable enthusiast.

THE LUNCHEON WHICH Richard C. Bunker Fox had planned to give at the Junior League room for the Misses Graham-Bremer has been postponed until November 2. Miss Graham-Bremer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton I. Bremer, was introduced last week at a large dance at Milton.

Mr. AND MRS. CLARENCE V. BURRAGE of Marlborough st. will present their daughter at a tea at The Country Club on November 12. Mrs. Henry Faxon is giving a luncheon for her later in the season.

MR. AND MRS. C. LESTER DE COURCY HINDS, who have been guests all summer of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roydon A. Seale, are leaving this week for their winter home in Del Boca Vista, Mr. and Mrs. Seale will open their town house on October 30.

MRS. MURIEL VANDERBILT CHURCH of Newport will arrive in Boston soon for a week's stay in connection with the annual Boston Horse Show. She has entered five horses in the various events.

Makes Debut This Season

MISS ANNE B. DICK, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evans Dick, Jr., of Pinckney st., is one of the debutantes who has been made a provisional member of the Junior League at the first election. Miss Dick will have her presentation this winter, when several parties will be given in her honor. (Backrach Photo.)

Gladys H. Graham to Make New York Debut December 5

MISS GLADYS H. GRAHAM, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard Graham of Park ave., New York, who will be introduced to Boston society this winter, will have her New York presentation on December 5 at a dinner-dance in the ballroom of the new Hotel Pierre in New York. The affair will precede the first junior assembly, taking place that night at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel.

DEBUTANTE AFFAIRS are coming early this year, earlier than usual. Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cabot of La Caille 4 Or, Colabaset and Jamaica Plain, will present their debutante daughter, Miss Helen, at a dance at the Hotel Somerset, Wednesday night. A dinner for the ushers will precede the dance. The important balls have usually been saved for the end of November or early in December.

INTEREST CONTINUES TO increase in the film fantasy in alibi. "Prince Achmed," which will be presented in Symphony Hall, November 4, is said to be the Elizabeth Peabody House, for which tickets are now obtainable at the Hall.

Psychiatrist to Lecture in Boston October 22

By NANCY BREWSTER
Clubwomen, teachers, parents and students are eagerly anticipating the coming of Dr. Fritz Wittels, psychiatrist of Vienna, on October 22. He will lecture on "The Psychology of the Child."

The vast difference between the age of the child and the age of the adult will be made clear by Dr. Wittels, pupil of the world renowned psychoanalyst, Dr. Freud. Dr. Wittels is renowned for a variety of achievements. He has written several books, among them his post-war book, "An End to Poverty" and "The World Without a Jail."

During the war he served as a military physician on the battlefields of Russia, Italy and in the Near East, where he became interested in Oriental psychology. He returned to his former interest in psychoanalysis and wrote a study of child psychology called "The Psychology of the Child."

This is his third visit to the United States. Dr. Wittels' Overholser of the Division of Examination of Prisoners in the Mass. Department of Mental Diseases, and a member of the committee on Delinquency and Crime of the Massachusetts Civic League, will introduce the speaker here as chairman for the formal discussion following Dr. Wittels' lecture.

Women's Branch of Civic Federation Will Meet Nov. 5

A program, teeming with interesting events and noted speakers dealing with important present day problems, has just been completed for the 26th annual meeting of the women's department, National Civic Federation, Massachusetts section, which will be held Wednesday, Nov. 5, at the Copple-Place hotel.

Mr. Barrett Wendell, chairman of the Massachusetts section, will preside. Reports of the various committee chairmen and the election of officers will occupy the morning session. Mrs. Horace E. Faxon is chairman of the annual luncheon committee. Tickets at 45 Newbury st., Boston.

Rev. Dr. Edmund A. Walsh, S. J., vice-president and Georgetown University, will address the afternoon session on "Social Russia and The World in 1930," and Matthew Wool, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, has promised to attend if possible and give labor's viewpoint on some of our civic problems.

"Know Your Y. W." Membership Dinner to Be Held Tonight

Interest in the "Know Your Y. W. C. A." educational campaign, which opened yesterday at the Boston Young Women's Christian Association on Chardon st., centers this evening on a "membership supper" in the main building with Mrs. Harold C. Stuart, of Brookline, presiding as hostess and Rev. Roydon Merrill, D.D., as guest of honor.

An open forum will follow when questions which have been left in the question box in the lobby will be answered. Music, bridge and a general good time will follow. Special attractions will mark each day this week. Events include reception to ministers and their wives, a tea for teachers, an informal gathering of householders, and a "Y. W. C. A. Alumni day" for those who have served this evening as a "membership supper" in the main building with Mrs. Harold C. Stuart, of Brookline, presiding as hostess and Rev. Roydon Merrill, D.D., as guest of honor.

Newton Mayor Will Tell Woman's Club of City's Program

Mayor Rindler Weeks of Newton will tell of plans for city improvements including playground development, at the meeting of the Newton Highlands Woman's Club tomorrow at 2:30 in the Congregational Church.

World affairs will be interpreted by Eunice Harriet Avery in a lecture on "Russia-Moreover and Leninism Today." On Friday, the club will hold a bridge luncheon at the Food Court Shop, 234 Boylston st., to finance a series of lectures on "Child Psychology."

Prominent Speakers to Address League of Women Voters

The Boston League of Women Voters, at the second of its series of luncheons to talk over municipal housekeeping on Thursday at 12-30, will hear "Our Unemployed and Dependents" discussed by three prominent speakers. The luncheon will be given at 8 Joy st. James E. Maguire, commissioner of Mass. Institutions; William G. O'Hare, commissioner of penal institutions, and Walter V. McCarthy, secretary of the overseers of public welfare, will be the speakers. These luncheons are informal and offer an opportunity for those interested to participate in "Adventures in Citizenship."

USES PLANE FOR DUCK HUNTING

By GEORGE HAMILTON

The problem of making a little hunting in his duties as manager of a flying company has been effectively solved by John Crane, Jr., head of the Dennison Airport Operating Co.

Having only a limited amount of time to devote to his sport, Crane cranked up one of his company's Weaco airplanes, loaded it with two of his friends, and took off for a small island off Martha's Vineyard.

A few hours down there in the early morning a bag of several birds, and then the trip back to the Atlantic airport in time for the day's business. Crane's father has stocked the island as a private hunting preserve.

"It would take the better part of a day's travel to go down, and the same length of time to return, which would be impossible with business demanding my attention," said Crane today. "I hop down there in the Weaco in an hour late in the afternoon, get up at dawn, have my fun, and then fly back to Dennison Airport in plenty of time for the opening of the day's activities. What the use of having airplanes if they can't be used for pleasure once in a while?"

MOTH FACTORY CLOSED

The moth airplane factory in Lowell will close this week, when the five remaining ships are flown to Boston for storage. The factory was moved to St. Louis some months ago, and completed ships consigned to Curtis-Wright flying service in New England district were stored there pending sale. The ships have been sold one by one, until now only five remain. Thus Lowell's bid to fame in the aircraft manufacturing field comes to a close for the present.

NEW SIKORSKY

A new four-place Sikorsky amphibian, the first private one in New England, has been delivered to its owner, Barrow Crocker, of Pittsburg, by Jack Langley, chief pilot for Wachusett Airways, which has been appointed dealer for the Sikorsky company in New England, with the exception of Connecticut. Langley will fly the ship for Crocker in addition to his duties with Wachusett Airways.

OPEN DURING WINTER

Announcement has been made by Fred Evans, manager of the Cape Cod Airport at Marston Mills, that the facilities of the airport will be kept open during the coming winter. In past years the field has been shut down, but traffic this year has reached such proportions that Evans believes it will be advisable to keep the hangars, shops, and service open when the snow flies. Sikorsky, Inc. uses the field for its summer resident flying school.

Missing 120 Days

Is This Too Good Your Cough?

Creomulsion may be a better help than you need. It combines seven major helps in one—the best help known to science. It is made for coughs from colds that last on, for quick relief, for safety. Mild coughs often yield to Jones' Creomulsion. No one can tell. No one knows which factor will do most for any certain cough. So careful people, more and more, are using Creomulsion for any cough that starts.

The cost is $1.25—a little more than a single help. But your druggist guarantees it, so it costs nothing if it fails to bring you quick relief. Coughs are dangerous signals. For safety's sake, feed your child in the best way known.

Rip Van Winkle of Lynn Lost After 95 Years

The "lost boy" problem became acute in Lynn today when police found themselves with a 95-year-old wanderer on their hands. Frank Rhodes was jovial, however, and while the police were trying to find his rooming house, the "lost boy" regained the station coppers with tales of Lynn in the days before they were born.

Rhodes, who has wandered all over the world since departing Lynn years ago, was seized a few days back with a desire to visit the town before he went South in Florida to seek up sustenance. So he wandered from Albany and took a room somewhere in Lynn.

Early today he cast off and cruised about the city, dropped into a lunch room and had breakfast—then realized that he did not know the address of his room and could not find the street or district.

Traffic Officer Abram Ames started the hunt and last reports had the police still at it.

SEVERAL DIE IN OIL SHIP BLAST

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—An oil tanker exploded in Hudson river, near the barge canal terminal here today with a detonation felt for many miles. First reports were that several men were killed and injured. Two tugs and a motor barge caught fire.

The explosion was believed to have occurred on the gasoline-laden tanker Craig, which was being towed. The charred body of one of its crew could be seen, but a wall of flame kept rescuers at a distance. Buildings in Troy and in

Peace Up to Nations, Declares Kellogg

The Hague, Oct. 20 (AP)—Frank B. Kellogg, former United States Secretary of State, who will be installed as judge of the World Court on Thursday, today told the Associated Press if the nations of the world say "We want peace," they will have it.

It goes without saying, he declared, the world-wide business depression has caused agitation. Of this, he added, Germany provides a typical example, but "there is no cause for undue anxiety."

Waterfront trembled and hundreds of windows were broken. The force of the explosion hurled a 200-pound fire hydrant three blocks. Blazing gasoline covered the river.

'LEGS' DIAMOND NEAR RECOVERY

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Jack Diamond, Broadway gangster, who was shot five times in the Monticello hotel a week ago, was on the way to recovery today, but the identity of his assailants was as deep a mystery as ever.

Examination of more than 35 persons during the week since the shooting left police without a clue. They were ready today to turn to Diamond himself, in the hope of discovering a lead.

Why are Camels welcomed with cheers in any company—a twosome or a crowd? Because they're mild—not flat or tasteless but naturally mild. They have the marvelous aroma that only choice tobaccos, meloed by golden sunshine, then expertly cured and superbly blended, can give a cigarette. There's nothing artificial about this delightful fragrance. No doctoring, no over-processing can produce it. Camel's refreshing mildness is there from the start.

Swing with the crowd to Camels. Learn the happy difference between true mildness and insipid flatness. Smoke without fear of throat-discomfort or after-taste—just for pleasure!

SNOW AND COLD FORECAST FOR NEW ENGLAND

Snow was forecast for northern New England by the weather bureau today, with continued cold weather.

In Middlesex County the mercury dropped in 24, with water troughs and small ponds bearing their first skimming of ice. The official minimum in Boston was only four degrees above freezing.

Early risers in the suburbs were greeted by a heavy coat of hoar frost, which smothered grass and rooftops.

Concord and Lexington reported minimum temperatures of 27 one degree colder than yesterday.

The weather was ideal for the opening of the up and coming season, and hunters were out in force shortly after daybreak for pheasant, partridge and woodcock.

The unofficial forecast calls for a frost in most of fair and mild tonight and Tuesday with light west easy winds.

Western New York

Digs Out of Heavy Snow

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—The extreme portion of western New York from Buffalo south along the shores of Lake Erie today was engaged almost exclusively in shoveling snow to recover from one of the worst snowstorms in its history.

Snow a depth from nine inches to four feet muffled the ground all the way from Buffalo to Erie. The storm over the lake was not accompanied by a gale which drove the big freighters to shelter and for a time caused much concern over the safety of many boats.

All through the affected section automobiles were stalled, many of the cars being those of tourists. Wires were down in all directions, trees were leveled, the unharvested grape crop in which western New York prides itself was ruined.

Sailboat Missing in Gale With Four Aboard

Detroit, Oct. 20 (AP)—A 62-foot combination sail and motor boat with four men on board was reported missing in the storm on Lake St. Clair today. The boat left Belle River, Ont., Thursday and had not been reported since. Two of the men were Joseph Pappas, 23, Detroit, and Morris Tripanier, 25.

Police to Watch

Dover, N. H., Voting

Concord, N. H., Oct. 20 (AP)—Because of alleged irregularities in the state primary election, it was learned today, Asst. Atty. Gen. Walter Wadsworth has ordered police supervision of voting in Ward 2, Dover, Nov. 4.

The charges were made by Mrs. H. P. Gorman, secretary of the ward committee.

Morgan's Carvings

Set in St. John's

Locust Valley, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—When J. P. Morgan next passes the site at the Episcopal Church of St. John's he will see panels of carved English oak which have been finished during his absence in Europe. He provided the funds and the work began two years ago. He is due from abroad next month.

THOUSANDS CHEERING!
The whistle shrills! Motor to the game with Socony Banner.
It's good till the last white
(traffic) line is past!

Saturday's a BANNER day!

Go to the game in a BANNER way!

IF YOU want to drive peacefully to the Big Game this Saturday and keep the "back-seat" drivers happy—make sure of two things:

Use the right GASOLINE—and the right ROUTE.

Even though your motor is a thirsty one—BANNER GASOLINE will give MORE MILEAGE per gallon. (That helps in these days—even Saturdays)

BANNER GASOLINE is QUICKER STARTING. (When you're impatient to start for the game, you'll like the urgent way it makes your motor leap into action!)

BANNER GASOLINE has INSTANT PICK-UP. (Even more important when you're in a hurry to sprint past the slowpokes on the way!)

And BANNER GASOLINE has ADDED POWER—that fighting quality you cheer so heartily when you see it in your favorite team!

ANNOUNCEMENT

WITH

Hoover Doesn't Know
His Football Onions
Picks Princeton-Navy
This Week on Grid

Looking Forward and Backward in Football

Looks as if President Hoover had been out on the Jersey Jungles last Saturday to watch Princeton and the Navy. Running the risk of being hung, drawn and quartered for committing lese majeste, as a confirmed football addict we venture the opinion that Mr. Hoover doesn't know his football onions. The Tiger two weeks running, has had knots tied in his tail by Brown and Cornell. Navy last Saturday was hoisted 18 to 0 by Duke University. So why lead the Princeton-Navy sewing circle his official presence when the President might be the trial for this neck of the woods and see a regular battle between Dartmouth and Harvard?

Of course Dartmouth's "Vah-Who Wah" might remind the President of Tammany's "Swamp 'em, swamp 'em, swamp 'em, get a bigger apple," but Hoover wouldn't mind a little thing like that. The Harvard and Dartmouth eyes a lot more than do Princeton and Navy, and that's another incentive for the President to forget that Jersey trip and come up here into New England where they are more good football teams to the acre than Jersey ever dreamed of growing.

Scanning the football calendar there are a whole flock of games carded for next Saturday which seem to carry a bigger appeal than the game Mr. Hoover has picked out. If the President must see a service team in action, how about Army at Yale at New Haven? A game which is going to have 60,000 souls Saturday night.

Yale Bowl into a wild affair in the psychopathic ward. Here in the East the football spotlight next Saturday will center on Harvard-Dartmouth and Yale-Army. New England fans also will watch the progress for happenings in the Michigan-Illinois game at Ann Arbor. Michigan comes to the Stadium on the basis of a Charles on November 8. With that smashing 13 to 0 defeat of Ohio State last Saturday the Green team served notice on John Harvard what to expect one week from next Saturday. Illinois apparently only should be a walkover for Michigan, for the Illini were routed 32 to 0 by Northwestern, last Saturday.

Pittsburgh draws a great game this weekend, for the 14 to 0 defeat of Syracuse leads the impression even Notre Dame will have its hands full with the Panthers. Wasn't that a stunner last Saturday—Notre Dame 21, Carnegie Tech 67? Knute Rockne—hell, hell—said Carnegie was six touchdowns better than his South Bendish and football experts predicted Carnegie as one of the greatest eleven in football history. This week what happened.

BIG SURPRISES
But most of us had a hunch Notre Dame would win. Saturday's biggest surprise were Wisconsin's 27 to 0 rout of the wrong Pennsylvanians and Michigan State's 14 to 0 defeat of Colgate. Pennsylvanians came back home to meet Lehigh this weekend. Last week Lehigh lost to Gettysburg, 14 to 0. Colgate plays Penn State, which was held to a scoreless tie by Lafayette.

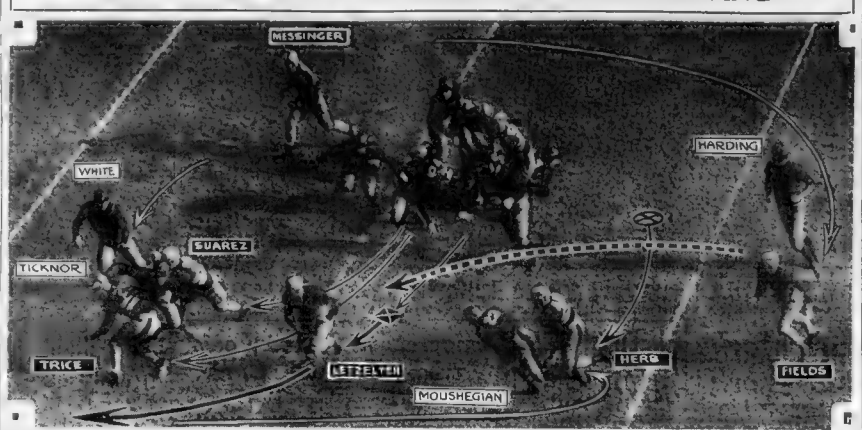

Fordham, who last week couldn't find an unbroken line in beating Holy Cross, takes on N. Y. City which humbled Massachusetts 35 to 0. The Maroon-Violet clash is likely to draw New York's recordy football crowd. Brown didn't look so good against Yale as the Brown did against Princeton and the Saturday-Harvard game next Sunday appears a tossup.

Below the Mason and Dixon line the week-end football wars will center on the Vanderbilt-Alabama duel at Birmingham. Last Saturday Alabama's Crimson Tide engulfed Tennessee, which hadn't been beaten in four years, 36 to 6. While Alabama was beating Tennessee Vanderbilt was warming up with Spring Hill, winning 27 to 6. Before Bill Crimmins and Ralph Gilroy think we are stepping on their toes with attempted football expertise we would like to have a bouquet to the Harvard eleven in general and Jack Thaw do Princeton, Harvard was defeated, not disgraced by one of the strongest teams that ever came down from the Front. If Yale doesn't think so, wait until next Saturday. Harvard was not quite up to the "point." It needed someone other than its own weak opposition that was furnished by Vermont, Springfield and Coast Guard Academy.

ARMY PASS THAT CAUGHT HARVARD NAPPING

MISSING
SUAREZ

THE PLAY PICTURED and analyzed here is a running pass similar to the underhand back-of-the-line two invented by full backs of Cornell and used successfully by Bill Rogers of Princeton for the past two years. Army used it from a kick formation with Fields 8 yards back of the line of scrimmage receiving ball from center—taking a long pass—then shooting the ball over the Harvard right end's head (Moushegian)—Ticknor being blocked by Trice and Suarez, Army right guard and right tackle, who have come out of position to support the play. Lettler, Army back, takes ball on short fly from Fields behind line and dashes 12 yards to Harvard's 33-yard line where he is thrown by White, fullback, and Scherchewsky, defensive right halfback. This same play, later in first period, almost got clear except for a brilliant tackle by Ticknor, Harvard captain and center.

Radical Changes Looked for in B. C. Backfield

Boston College backfield will undergo a process of reconstruction this week. A pair of defeats in one week in two of the big games of the year have forced the coaches to plan radical changes in the makeup of the club.

It may be that the failure of the team to get along last Saturday against the Princeton team was due to the terrific punishment handed out by Major Phelan's Princeton team on the previous Monday. Nevertheless, it remains a fact that every time the B. C. attack has met a stiff defense it has failed to function. The B. C. rush line is still one of the weakest in the East and will probably not be changed. If it had not been for a momentary sagging on the part of the forward, the Maroon and Gold would have been victorious at the end of the Villanova game.

More than once the attack which showed so miserably against the Princeton eleven in the East and which failed to function, the interference pluck up in front of the runner or failing to carry out assignments, while the backs seemed to be in a daze, was a factor in the defeat. But outside of a single yard gain, the entire lack of advancing the ball was left to Volokov and Colbert's forwards.

The whole team seems to be still feeling the effects of the pounding handed out by Fordham on the 14th. It is true that no team can afford to take on two major teams of the type of Princeton and Villanova on consecutive days without suffering the consequences for some time.

From the last meet Dayton (University) met Saturday, a team which they defeated decisively 20 to 0, the B. C. team was a fairly easy game ahead, McKinney can run his team apart and do several yards in the backfield. Before Saturday there may be several more meets of the team. After the Villanova defeat it looks as though only Sells and Volokov are sure of places in the backfield.

Providence Blanks Wanderers, 20 to 0
Providence, 20 to 0—Playing first defensive football, the Brooklyn and Providence teams of the Albany soccer league, put on a scorching contest here, Providence finally pulling out in front at 20 to 0. Seventy minutes elapsed before Providence slipped over the first goal.

Four minutes later, the home team slipped through a second one. Scissors, right wing, the Brooklyn and Providence teams of the Albany soccer league, put on a scorching contest here, Providence finally pulling out in front at 20 to 0. Concord Yankees Stop Minute Boys
Concord Yankees dropped Lexington Minute Boys 15 to 0 at Concord.

O'Brien figured in two touchdowns in the first quarter, carrying 30 and five yards in two plays for the first score and throwing a pass to College for the second. In the last period Watt was successful in a 150 yard drive.

HORNETS TO SPEED UP OFFENSE

Harvard began an intensive week of training for Dartmouth at Soldiers Field today.

The Crimson squad of 40 reported to head Coach Horner apparently without any serious injuries resulting from the battle with Army.

This week will see the return of Charlie Devens and Edie Mayne to the Harvard lineup. Both O'Brien, regular end, who was out of the West Point tilt, is also expected to be back in top.

Realizing the strength of the incoming team from Hanover, Coach Horner faces a stiff task in whipping the Harvard team into shape for the coming battle.

A great portion of today's session was devoted to the Harvard coaching staff to point out the Crimson mistakes made last week. Horner intends to stress particularly the blocking work of the Harvard line-men and backs.

At the moment which the Cantab line gave Barry Wood a general commission the reason for Harvard's downfall against Army. Wood's pass to Harding, and his attempt to kick Harvard out of danger were hurried.

Norwen to Speed Up Harvard's Offense
Norwen will also attempt to speed up the Harvard offense. The Crimson coach has been inviting the players to speed up since the beginning of the season. Unless the players are able to get off their own passing attack it is futile.

Harvard's strong attack with Harvey and Jack Crickard for right halfback this week. Up until the Army tilt Crickard had been considered first choice for this spot, but Crickard showing last Saturday has attracted Horner's attention.

It is possible that Crickard will get the nod over Devens against Hanover on Saturday. Crickard has the advantage of better speed than Devens. Devens has had further demonstrated that he is a better player. Crickard's halfback are just as great, if not better than the ones he has.

Edie Mayne will have a full week to get back into shape before Harvard's next game. Mayne was injured in the last game, but he is expected to be back in top of his stride and will be a big factor in Harvard's success next week.

A week's postponement for Norwen's return to the field will be a disadvantage, but will also give him a chance to get his legs under him.

A week's postponement for Norwen's return to the field will be a disadvantage, but will also give him a chance to get his legs under him.

Norwen Expects Green to Be Harder Than Army
Norwen has indicated that he expects the Green team to be harder to beat than Army. The Green team has had the top of its stride and will be a big factor in Harvard's success next week.

Three scrimmages at least are on the books for Harvard this week. Horner will have all the time he wants to get the team into shape for the coming season.

Jess Guilford Aids Albemarle to Win
The addition of Jess Guilford to the ranks of the Albemarle football team, 13 to 0 at Springfield, proved an inspiration for the team. Guilford, a champion center, a 150 pounder, is a return man over the line.

Albemarle's success in the local titleholders and the picked team will have plenty of work to do to win a neutral score this season.

NEW YORK
GOOD ADVANCES ARE MADE
IN WALL ST. DEALINGS

New York, Oct. 20.—The stock market closed strong today with numerous advances of 2 to 10 points. Trading was light, however, total sales approximating 3,200,000 shares.

Profit taking reduced several extreme advances in the last hour. U. S. Steel and American Telephone advanced 4 points and American Express 3½, only to slip back about a point.

Stores sales for September revealed the first increase since April, due to a further decline in commodity prices. Cold weather appearing over the week-end was favorably regarded as an impetus to purchases of such goods.

Call money remained unchanged at 3 per cent. The demand was light.

Based on results from its operations for this year, it is probable

Byers, Eastman, Union Pacific, and Westinghouse Electric 5 to 6 points. Atchafalpa and Cane 2; and Allied Chemical and International Business Machine, 11 points. Advances of 2 to 3 points appeared throughout the year.

Buoyancy developed in foreign exchange rates, as well as stocks. The dollar was particularly buoyant, although strength, and other leading European currencies stiffened somewhat. The Spanish peseta rose markedly. The Spanish peseta rose sharply in August, after U.S. measures with an advance of more than 1-1/2 cent.

fact that distress liquidation appeared to have been largely accomplished. An almost steady decline of about five weeks finds few precedents in stock market history, and the feeling has gained ground in speculative circles that the bottom must have been about reached.

One observer points out that the persistence of important liquidation after short term money rates have been established at extremely low rates has occurred only once previously in the history of the decade, namely, in 1914, when the outbreak of the World War completely clouded the speculative outlook.

GERMAN ACTION HELPS
The far-reaching nature of the present business recession has resulted in extreme degrees of pessimism with political uncertainties abroad an aggravating factor, so the failure of extremists in the German Reichstag to upset the government has been decidedly helpful to Wall Street and bond markets.

Business news aid surveys appearing over the week-end were still mixed. Reports from steel and automotive centers in the main failed to provide much cheer, although some independent steel mills reported increases in bookings. The mid-month survey of the

THE PORT OF BOSTON IN REVIEW

By CARL MORRISON

The New England Trans-Atlantic Company has made its first formal announcement of the proposed transatlantic direct service from Boston to London and Antwerp. It is expected that the public report on the company's plans for the first sailing of the ship will be made in the near future.

ON DUFF SERVICE

As an indication that freight business is improving, the Boston office of the Lockwood line announced today service from New Orleans, Mobile and Houston through the Panama Canal to Los Angeles. The line Lockwood started the first run Sunday.

FORN TRADE

Many cargoes are planning to attend the dinner Wednesday, at the Copple Place hotel, for the so-called Industries of Massachusetts. This will be "Foreign Trade Night."

HARBOR CLEANUP

Capt. Herbert A. Evans of the Harbor-Commercial Commission, chairman of the Foreign Commerce Club committee on cleaning up the harbor, expects a preliminary report which he feels is typical of conditions existing.

A few nights ago, the Charles T. Gallagher at his company ran into a submerged obstruction of the type that the club is taking steps to remove. A blade was broken, with repairs costing $100, not including the cost of the tug.

BOSTONIANS AFLOAT

Among those sailing from New York on the first run scheduled for the company, Capt. Charles H. Tackett of the Lockwood line, is the ship "Golden Age," which is owned by the company.

Sherman L. Whipple

A Talented Lawyer Dies

By the death of Sherman L. Whipple, New England loses a talented, distinguished lawyer, the public loses a sincere progressive and his acquaintances lose a devoted and kindly friend. The public will remember Sherman L. Whipple best as the patriotic, untiring investigator of the war frauds and as the champion of the Initiative and Referendum and similarly liberal measures of democratic reform. As he ascended to the top of his profession, his interest in the welfare of the people and his confidence in their right to govern themselves expanded rather than diminished; as is so often the case among those who acquire wealth and prestige.

What Sherman L. Whipple won by hard work. It must be remembered that he was not born to great affluence, nor did he inherit a plentiful law practice. He overcame substantial handicaps in his youth and it is to his everlasting credit that in the glory of his success he remained a man of simple needs, loyal to his friends and a patient counsellor to the younger, struggling members of his profession.

He was a modest and able man.

Boston Is Waking Up

Fight on Freight Rates Wins Backing

Boston is steadily coming to its senses. The fine old spirit of civic unity and independence is being revived. The determination of the railroad, industrial and business interests to co-operate unitedly with Mayor Curley in the campaign to abolish the freight differentials which have impaired the port and business generally is a spirited manifestation of community enthusiasm and purpose worthy of commendation.

There is none so blind he cannot see that the development of the port has been restrained by artificial devices and capricious handicaps.

Nature has endowed Boston with a magnificent harbor. It is naturally and logically the heart of New England's water transportation system. It is at least one day nearer to the trade marts of the European Continent than New York and the Southern ports.

But the advantage of her proximity to the export and import trade channels, instead of insuring her benefit, has been made a weapon for her punishment. She has been penalized by high railroad rates on the one hand and the sea has denied the compensating right of lower water rates on the other.

There can be no mystery to the fact of this discrimination or to the further fact that in New York the shipping interests accept the lightening, trucking and other port charges which in Boston they compel the shipper to pay. The financial interests which control shipping are substantially lodged in New York. Their concern in that port is so great and intense that, in order to maintain their dominance, they will adopt punitive measures against Boston or any other rival.

While the financial interests of Boston have been lamentably devoid of patriotic regard for the upbuilding of the merchant marine, the political interests of New England have been lamentably weak in pushing for their rights in legislation at Washington. They have accepted repeated kickings in transportation matters with such indulgence that official Washington has looked somewhat with scorn upon them.

It does seem, however, that Mayor Curley has rejuvenated the independent spirit which was long New England's pride and boast, and the future contains some promise of success.

We'll Recover First

New England's Industrial Prospects

Senator Warner of New York, during his recent visit, expressed the belief that New England is destined to recover from unemployment and the business slump more rapidly than any other section of the country.

He knows more about the problem of unemployment than any other man in the country, with the possible exception of our own Senator Walsh, and in his optimistic observation of New England he was exactly right.

When other sections of the country were reeling in prosperity, New England was at the bottom of the financial ladder. Her woolen, cotton and shoe industries were depressed. Her independent manufacturers then began to readjust themselves. Realizing they could no longer keep their eggs in one basket, they began to diversify production and to engage in the manufacture of machine parts, auto and radio supplements and to the newer needs of the modern industrial world.

In short, New England had begun to fight her way out of debt times before they settled upon the other sections of the country. This may be poor consolation to the man without a job, but it is a sign of encouragement. We can find favorable stars here and there to justify it.

Savings deposits in Massachusetts banks increased by $10,000,000 in the past three months.

The building contracts awarded last week were, with one exception, the highest ever recorded in the similar period in New England.

"Gold" in Our Farms

Some New England Figures

More jokes have been written about the obtuseness of the New England soil than about the weather. The favorite one has been that the only crop we can grow is stone.

However, it was pointed out in these columns a few weeks ago that New England's agricultural products now are greater both in variety and in volume than at any time in all her previous history. Thanks to the ingenuity and versatility of the New England farmer this record has been accomplished while he has actually been reducing his acreage.

We are now supplied with information that the average farm wage is higher in New England than in any other section of the United States, including the wheat and cattle country of the West, and, therefore, is doubtless higher than elsewhere in the world.

As an illustration: The average monthly pay for the farm employee throughout the United States is $44. While in the New England states it is: Maine, $66; New Hampshire, $72; Vermont, $67.75; Massachusetts, $78.50; Rhode Island, $81; Connecticut, $87.25.

Let them laugh that one off.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH ME?

By NELSON HARDING

We'll soon be in a pretty pass if we don't shut that looking glass. Let's tear ourselves away from it before we really throw a fit.

Reflections in that mirror make The most courageous spirit quake. Let's take an optimistic view—A look at good hard work might do.

Listen, World! -- We B brag

By ELSIE ROBINSON

How Smart Are We Americans?

HOW SMART are we Americans?

—I wonder.

"The wisest people on earth!"

—You answer with patriotic pride.

And, as proof, you point to our great wealth, our amazing contrivances, our beautiful homes with their charming pictures and fixtures.

"What other people are smart enough to have all that?" you say.

But does having things prove smartness?

Does it prove that we have a few great mechanical geniuses—a few discriminating souls who know beauty? But how much smartness does it prove for the average citizen? We use these amazing contrivances—but so could a chimpanzee. That doesn't prove smartness; that just proves adaptability. How much can we make out of the subtlety and wisdom of our brains for the proof of smartness?

How ingenious would the average American citizen be if dumped on a desert island with no tools save his own brain and two hands? He would have been very ingenious—once.

The original Yankee pioneer was as smart a human as ever dashed Fate. But how about that pampered creature, his grandchild, who has never even mended a screen door or sewed up a kitchen apron—who can hardly walk on his own hind legs, so accustomed is he to automobiles and street cars? What chance for ingenuity is there in our ready-made lives? What chance for thought?

"Take yourself, for example. Honestly, what have you been doing of late for the last three months? But I can guess! Pee Wee golf—yes! Well, Pee Wee golf's all right. Great sport for our health. And there's no denying we're a healthy nation. A nation of good sports. But we aren't content with that. We insist that we're also a very smart nation. We get mad if anyone hints that we're not the smartest nation on earth. Maybe we are. I certainly hope it's true. But now and then something happens that puts an awful jolt in one's complacency. For example—this recent revelation that the average American can read two books a year. One—two—count 'em—two books a year, which, of course, implies that thousands of Americans read no books at all.

But who wants to read books when they can go to the movies or listen to the radio or watch a prize fight or take a nice ride in an automobile? Yes, there's something to that. Maybe we don't need books. Maybe radio and movies and Pee Wee golf courses are enough for a smart people. And look at our big, booming bank balances. Yes, I'm looking. But I'm still wondering.

I'm wondering just what is going to happen some day if we Americans keep on playing Pee Wee golf and piling up money and listening to radio and going to movies and reading two books a year—or maybe not that.

Do you suppose it's possible that some half-starved, earnest, really smart little nation, that never plays, but does think, will come along and hand us out a right in the middle of our complacency? It has happened.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. MCINTYRE

Diary of a Modern Popsy

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Diary of a modern Popsy. Up early shouting anthems on the mad diving, and cleaning out an old chest came upon a hilarious original by "Ding" of the late Clara Briggs and dusted it off to take to the framer along with a book of...

At the mall, finding cheering notes from Sinclair Lewis, Adolphe Menjou and Edna Hillard, then at a window watching a slushing shower, my poor head filled with noble thoughts but few words to express them. And still an urge to attack an inoffensive piano tuner in the adjoining room.

In the late afternoon walking with my wife and Ted and Connie Cook through the Harlem Speedway saw a gravely silent crowd gazing over a parapet. And a policeman said hoarsely were dragging for a little hooch for a smart people. Home where Miss Christina Rose came and played some beautiful tunes.

Literature of the day is again being enriched by E. S. Martin. His one time editor, in Life. Few editorials have been as consistently clean and interesting so many years.

Existence was perked up a bit, too, if some producer would wangle a fortnight play for the extraordinarily fine talents of Pauline Lord. When she becomes inarticulate and hand us out a right in the middle of our complacency? It has happened.

Only one role—that of "Annie Christie"—came within a mile of measuring up to her art.

My theatrical attendance has about settled down to a weekly visit to the New Red Theater. And the Rialto will have to spread itself to even me in this 45 minute diversion. Yet I wish the new reels would abandon for a time such going-on as ship launching and native folk dances in Roumania. I do by exercising unusual restraint I could forego a coarse story laying until a week or so after Yuletide.

Personal nomination for the hard-boiled theatrical audience in town—that Saturday matinee gang at the Palace.

"Honor system" restaurants are getting a play in New York. A recent one opened on 41st st., near Park ave. Hereafter they have confined the cat-and-rat lunchers down town. The idea is simple: Patronize select food, carry it on trays to tables, eat. And tell the cashier the amount on the way out. The loss through dishonesty is reputed to be less than one-third of one per cent.

One of the last of the vanishing old guard to converse the ancient ad's clock promenade on Fifth ave. in the millionaire cotillion.

August Heckler, Back pleasant late afternoon, he walks briskly from his Vanderbilt apt. office to his home on Park via Fifth. His cheeks are rosy, his steps buoyant and in his eyes is that old unimpaired brightness of enthusiastic youth.

But much of the Fifth ave. 5 o'clock verve has gone. To me it will never be the same with-out Mrs. Belmont's coach and four, careening gaily from the Plaza fountain to the Washington Arch and back again. Every block a herald would trumpet the approach and the squire would pump and pile and pile and pile and pile of useless brilliancies, it went out with the war.

An annoyed gentleman to a simple, beautiful young thing in a cafe: "Good heavens, are you getting deaf, too?"

Kin Hubbard has a friend whose son was graduated from an eastern college. "With diligence, economy, and stern self-reliance," writes the father will be able to pay off the boy's debts by 1940."

Everyone around me is giving a dinner to six men friends when his wife came in, slapped him, pulled the cloth from the table and chased the cook out a rear seat. "Imagine putting a dinner party like that on its feet again!"

The Drunkard

Pity Him—Under Prohibition Especially

THE PSYCHOLOGY OF DRINK

This picture of a drunkard is presented by an artist of imagination as his conception of the effect of drink on the human mind.

Whoever, by his misfortune, has known drunkenness and looks at this picture when sober will see in it a reminder of conditions through which he has passed.

Huge bottles typify the importance that drink assumes in the drunken mind.

The half foolish, half wild expression of the face reproduces the effects of drink on a mind intelligent and keen.

The overturned bottle stands for drunken carelessness.

Here sits the drunkard among his enemies, the bottles and the glasses, after alcohol has done its work.

Unfortunately sermons against drunkenness and warnings against alcohol are needed in this day of so-called "prohibition," more, even, than they were in days before prohibition-bottling had financed crime to the tune of billions a year.

The drunkard today drinks alcohol that is poisonous. It shortens life, destroys the constitution, sometimes causes blindness instantly or within a few hours, and frequently death follows within an hour of the drinking.

Within the past week the deaths of four unfortunate drinkers of bootleg whiskey in Newark were followed by the deaths of ten others that evidently had bought, perhaps with the assurance that the stuff was "pre-war," the same poisonous concoction.

In old days he who drank whiskey recklessly was certain of ruin, physical and mental, in the long run. He was to be pitied.

In these prohibition days of bootlegged alcohol, the man that buys and drinks the poisonous stuff is to be wondered at—his folly is not far removed from suicide.

Fortunately, the common sense of the nation, protesting against fanaticism, gives hope that prohibition with its crime wave, its grafting, bribing and poisonous drunkenness, may be swept away.

Hope for that, and VOTE FOR IT.
